

Course Themes - Spring 2020

HIS 1300 The U.S. in Global Perspective: Producers, Consumers, Creators - Dr. Smith

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to the way Americans think of themselves in the global context.

HIS 1300-01	40934	T209	MWF 9:05-9:55 a.m.
HIS 1300-04	40937	T209	MWF 11:15-12:05

HIS 1300 The U.S. in Global Perspective: History of Nature and the Hunt - Dr. Hill

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to the social, economic, and environmental history of the U.S. with a focus on hunting cultures.

HIS 1300-10	40942	T211	MWF 9:05-9:55 a.m.
HIS 1300-12	40944	T211	MWF 10:10-11:00 a.m.
HIS 1300-05	40938	T211	MWF 11:15-12:05 p.m.

HIS 1300 The U.S. in Global Perspective: War, Peace, & Gender w/ Russia, Britain, & Great Powers - Dr. Jug

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to international conflicts, conflict settlement, and gender roles in U.S. relations with Russia, Britain, and other Great Powers from the 19th century to the mid-20th century.

HIS 1300-03	40936	TB05	MWF 10:10-11:00 a.m.
-------------	-------	------	----------------------

HIS 1300 The U.S. in Global Perspective: A nation of Immigrants - Dr. Poor

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to immigration and national identity.

HIS 1300-06	40939	T211	MW 2:30-3:45 p.m.
HIS 1300-07	40946	T211	TR 8:00-9:15 a.m.
HIS 1300-09	40941	T211	TR 9:30-10:45 a.m.

HIS 1300 The U.S. in Global Perspective: Coming to America - Dr. Watkins

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to immigration and national identity.

HIS 1300-08	40940	T202	TR 8:00-9:15 a.m.
-------------	-------	------	-------------------

HIS 1300 The U.S. in Global Perspective: American Food, from Maíz to Momofuku - Dr. Coffman

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to the way what we eat reflects U.S. interactions with the rest of the world.

HIS 1300-11	40943	T211	TR 11-12:15
HIS 1300-14	40933	T211	TR 2:00-3:15 p.m.

HIS 1300 The U.S. in Global Perspective: The Transatlantic Slave Trade - Dr. Elder

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to the impact of the transatlantic slave trade on early America.

HIS 1300-13	40945	TB05	TR 12:30-1:45 p.m.
-------------	-------	------	--------------------

HIS 1300 The U.S. in Global Perspective: The "Last Acceptable Prejudice" - Professor Gutacker

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to the history of anti-Catholicism in the United States.

HIS 1300-15 40932 T211 TR 3:30-4:45 p.m.

HIS 1300 The U.S. in Global Perspective: Pax Americana - Dr. Wingerd

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to international relations.

HIS 1300-02 40935 T210 TR 3:30-4:45 p.m.