

REL 1350: The Christian Heritage
Common Course

Description

“An introduction to Christian life and thought, from the early church to the present, through an examination of texts and practices with an emphasis on Christian doctrine, ethics, witness and institutions.

Core Curriculum Objectives

1. As a common course providing all A&S students a shared foundation of knowledge through the study of the Christian heritage/tradition, this course will introduce students to the basic building blocks of the historic, living Christian faith.
2. Students will acquire a greater and deeper understanding of the broad development of Christianity, its theological convictions and practices (beliefs, ethics, witness, and institutions).
3. With this broader, more in-depth understanding of the Christian heritage/tradition, students will be better enabled and better equipped to have informed engagement with others from a Christian perspective – a critical dimension of a transformational Christian education.
4. The course, then, contributes to a transformational general education curriculum that facilitates the process of students becoming informed and productive citizens of a democracy and servant leaders of faith communities which highlights the cultivation of normative Christian virtues.

Criteria

- Credit Hours: 3
- Course Level: 1000
- Department or Departments responsible for teaching course: Religion

Justification

- Baylor Catalog, Curriculum Organization, General Education Outcomes: (p. 30): “Baylor graduates should be able to: communicate... think critically...demonstrate knowledge of the Christian scriptures and heritage that enables engagement with others from a Christian perspective... commitment to social and civic responsibility.”
- A&S Core Curriculum Vision Preamble: “The College of Arts & Sciences core curriculum is the foundation for a degree from Baylor University; it serves to educate men and women to become informed and productive citizens of a democracy and servant leaders of faith communities.”
- A&S Core Curriculum Vision, Section E: “As spiritual beings, students are created with the ability and freedom to know God. God’s nature is made known through both revealed and discovered truth. Within a community of Christian scholars, students will learn the Scriptures, history, and central beliefs and practices of the living Christian tradition. The core curriculum will illuminate how Christianity is an intellectually informed faith. Through this theologically informed education, students will be enabled to pursue and cultivate faith, hope, and love.
